LB 388

SPEAKER NICHOL: The bill is returned. Senator Vickers.

SENATOR VICKERS: I move we now strike the enacting clause, Mr. President.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Just very briefly, Mr. Chairman and members of the Legislature, this bill could be passed over. We don't know what might develop with reference to Commonwealth, maybe a state bank bill or whatever and you've got a vehicle resting on Final Reading now. These measures may have had hearings before and the only thing is that enough time does not remain to get a bill all the way across to Final Reading. So I am not going to vote to strike the enacting clause. I don't have any proposition of my own that I want to put into 388 at this moment, but who knows what might develop that the whole Legislature may have an interest in.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Newell.

SENATOR NEWELL: (Response inaudible.)

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Beutler.

SENATOR BEUTLER: (Response inaudible.)

SENATOR BARRETT: Senator Cal Carsten, is your light on? It is up here. Okay, Senator Beutler.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Mr. Speaker, I'd just as soon get rid of the bill. I think most of these kinds of bills are like rats. About all they carry are vermin and diseases and we just as well kill the sucker.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Vickers, did you wish to close on the vermin, I mean on the bill?

SENATOR VICKERS: I don't know whether I've got a rat or a pony now. I don't really care. I just don't want the bill
